2. Mission Statement

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Department of Counseling at San Francisco State University is to train the next generation of counselor leaders who recognize that the liberation of all communities is only possible when an intersectional, participatory, community-driven approach to counseling is practiced. Our training program is grounded in the belief that counseling, as a field of practice, affords professionals the knowledge and skills needed to carry out social justice work via strengths-based healing and wellness, advocacy, critical consciousness development, and action-oriented scholarship and research.

DEPARTMENT VISION

Culturally competent, psychologically-minded, and emotionally grounded Career Counselors, Clinical Mental Health Counselors, College Counselors, Gerontological Counselors, Marriage & Family Therapists, and Credentialed School Counselors are needed in the field of human services. The department’s six graduate programs, its undergraduate minor in counseling, and our partnerships with community agencies collaboratively prepare students who are well-grounded to help meet the growing demands in the field. Our MFCC curriculum prepares students to become eligible for LMFT licensure in California and our CMHC curriculum for LPCC licensure in California. Our department’s faculty, and the curriculum we have designed, aspire to achieve excellence in three core areas: Multicultural Competence, Community Partnerships, and Action Research.

INTRODUCTION

This handbook provides policies and procedures relating to student trainee placement in the field. The handbook is available to students, provided to agency supervisors, faculty liaisons and practicum/internship instructors to provide all individuals involved in the traineeship knowledge of the policies and procedures of the Department of Counseling. Read this handbook carefully. We hold students responsible for the information included. Please be advised that the Department of Counseling has the right to make changes to this handbook as needed in light of the changing guidelines, regulations, ordinances, and laws that impact practice and training.

The agency supervisor, student trainee, and Department of Counseling fieldwork coordinator will sign a contract (Traineeship Agreement) at the beginning of the academic year to establish shared understanding to work together within the parameters of these policies and procedures.

This handbook, Department of Counseling forms to log traineeship hours, traineeship agreement and contract, and traineeship program information can be accessed at http://counseling.sfsu.edu/content/fieldwork or through a link from the Department of Counseling web site at www.counseling.sfsu.edu.
3. ORGANIZATION AND FOCUS OF TRAINEESHIPS

Terminologies: Practicum, Internship, Traineeship, Intern, & Trainee

CACREP distinguishes between "practicum" and "internship." California state law distinguishes between "trainees and interns." CACREP refers to the first semester of fieldwork as "practicum" and all subsequent semester fieldworks as "internships." For students pursuing LMFT or LPCC after graduation, the California Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS) calls post-graduate fieldwork an "internship," and graduates are registered as "associate" (i.e., Associate MFT or Associate PCC).

In this handbook, practicum and internship are collectively called traineeship. Practicum refers to first-semester traineeship and internship refers to post-first-semester traineeship in the professional experience training sequence. Each traineeship should be set up for one full academic year, beginning in Fall semester and ending in Spring semester according to the first day and last day of the respective semester as designated in the university's academic calendar. Practicum and internship courses must be taken with placement in a counseling agency approved by the Department of Counseling.

Students in first-year traineeship are required to spend a minimum of 12 up to 16 hours on at least 2 days per week in the placement site. Students in second-year traineeship are required to spend a minimum of 16 up to 20 hours and at least 2 days per week in the placement site. Some agencies ask for more than the minimum number of hours required by this program. In these cases, students and placement sites must negotiate the number of hours without negatively affecting trainee’s academic progress. In the first-year, first-semester practicum, students must enroll in the practicum course (COUN 706) and fieldwork (COUN 705) concurrently. Over the four semesters students are required to accrue a total of 840 hours. A minimum of 280 of the total hours must be direct client contact hours, defined as one-on-one individual counseling contact between the student and the client.

Practicum and internship traineeship is part of the program of study to complete the degree. Traineeship placement is the responsibility of the student working with the faculty advisor and fieldwork coordinator in the Department of Counseling. The final decision regarding placement is a matter of consultation between the student, their faculty advisor, and the fieldwork coordinator. Students can only be placed in sites approved by the Department of Counseling. The expectations and responsibilities of the student, practicum/internship instructor, fieldwork coordinator, and agency supervisor are defined in this handbook.
4. Insurance Coverage & Safety Protocol

The Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) requires all students to be covered by individual professional counseling liability insurance while enrolled in practicum and internship (Standards 3.A). Students are recommended to purchase insurance through membership in their respective counseling associations (e.g., American School Counseling Association, California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists) or American Counseling Association (ACA). The American Counseling Association offers a discount for ACA student members to purchase professional liability insurance through the Healthcare Providers Service Organization (HPSO). In addition, the California State University System has liability insurance coverage for students enrolled in coursework that requires fieldwork associated with your program. Agency supervisors are advised to inform trainees if the counseling agency provides liability insurance coverage as well. The University works with agencies that offer fieldwork experiences to student interns to create Memoranda of Understanding (MOU) that outline training agreements established between the two entities.

All agencies should have an emergency crisis protocol in place, and this should be clearly communicated to the SFSU interns and practicum students. The Department of Counseling places students in a variety of agencies located in various geographic locations in the Bay Area and serving a wide variety of client populations. Supervisors must inform and prepare students of situations and circumstances related to the neighborhood and clientele that may lead to violent behavior and potential danger. It is the Department of Counseling's policy that no student should ever be alone in any agency at any time and that weekend and evening work should occur only if the location and facility are considered to be safe. The site supervisor must abide by the department policy to ensure student safety. If a student has any concern about personal safety in an agency setting, they must leave the agency, inform their site supervisor, and contact their faculty liaison or the fieldwork coordinator immediately.
5. PRACTICUM & INTERNSHIP COURSE SEQUENCE

Professional Practice Training Sequence

Practicum and internship is required for completion of the degree program. Students will seek placement in two internship sites each lasts for one academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters). In first-year traineeship, students enroll in COUN 705 and COUN 706 in fall semester and COUN 736 in spring semester). In second-year traineeship, students enroll in COUN 890 in fall semester and COUN 891 in spring semester. Students completing a third placement to fulfill requirements of a counseling emphasis take COUN 850. All placement sites must be approved by the Department of Counseling.

First-Year, First-Semester Practicum: COUN 705 & COUN 706

All students in COUN 705 and COUN 706 must complete 40 direct client contact hours + 140 indirect hours = 180 hours by the end of the first-year, first-semester practicum before they can move on to subsequent internship. Direct contact hours are one-on-one individual counseling contact with a client. Indirect hours include time spent on activities not limited to documentation, weekly supervision, case conference and staff meeting, training and workshop, reading and research preparation for clients, and other professional activities at placement site.

The 2016 CACREP standards require all trainees to “complete supervised practicum experiences that total a minimum of 100 clock hours . . . at least 40 clock hours of direct service with clients, including experience in individual and group work” (p. 14). The Department of Counseling requires all trainees to complete 180 hours over a 15-week semester in your first-year and first-semester practicum. At least 40 of these hours must be direct client contact hours. See Table 1.

CACREP 2016 standards require practicum students to have weekly interaction with an average of one (1) hour per week of individual and/or triadic supervision throughout the practicum (p. 14). This is achieved by enrollment in COUN 705 (triadic supervision, mock counseling, and five hours of individual supervision) and required weekly field based supervision of at least one hour a week.

CACREP 2016 standards require “an average of 1.5 hours per week of group supervision that is provided on a regular schedule throughout the practicum by a program faculty member or a student supervisor” (p.14). This requirement is achieved through weekly three-hour class meetings in COUN 706.

Internship Courses: COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891

CACREP 2016 standards require 600 clock hours after the successful completion of the practicum, with at least 240 clock hours of direct service. SFSU students complete 660 clock hours over three semesters – 180 direct service hours in 2nd semester internship, 240 direct service hours per semester in 3rd and 4th semester internships – while concurrently enrolled in COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891. See Table 1, page 7.

CACREP 2016 standards require weekly individual or triadic supervision, usually with an on-site supervisor (p. 15). This is accomplished through on-site supervision, which must minimally include weekly, one-hour individual supervision. Additional supervision is acceptable, but cannot replace individual supervision.

CACREP 2016 standards require “an average of one and one half (1½) hours per week of group supervision on a regular schedule throughout the internship … and provided by a counselor education program faculty member” (p.15). The Department of Counseling provides this group supervision in COUN 706, COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891.

Internship in Emphasis Area or Summer Internship: COUN 850

Students completing an additional internship in an Emphasis area (i.e., in addition to the internship in the Specialization) should register for a 3-unit course in COUN 850.

On some occasion, students extend an existing internship from spring semester to summer session and continue to accrue traineeship hours with the agreement of the supervisor at the placement agency and faculty advisor. In such instance, students should (a) inform the Department Chair and fieldwork coordinator, (b) register for one unit of COUN 850, and (c) meet with a faculty supervisor (arranged by the Department Chair) weekly during the summer session. Please note that students need to pay summer tuitions for COUN 850.

6. Forms & Documentation

There are a number of documents that must be completed at the beginning and at the conclusion of each traineeship. These documents can be downloaded from the Department’s website link to internship: http://counseling.sfsu.edu/content/forms. To expedite the process in light of the impact of COVID-19, all forms can be completed and submitted online according to the designated timeline. Refer to Appendix 1 for a summary table of documentation and submission timelines.

Trainee Placement Agreement

Trainee Placement Agreement serves as a contract that specifies the terms of requirements and expectations between the trainee, the agency, and the department. The agreement must be completed and signed by the student, the placement site’s supervisor or training coordinator, and the department’s internship and placement coordinator. Completed agreement must be turned in to the course instructor before the second week in the fall semester.

Traineeship Hour Log

Students must log all your weekly traineeship hours on site throughout the semester. There are separate log forms for Specialization hours and Emphasis hours. Students accruing hours for both Specialization and Emphasis from the same placement agency need to complete separate Specialization and Emphasis log forms. Before your course instructor can assign a course grade, all log forms must be approved with signatures of your site supervisor and course instructor. All log forms must be returned to the course instructor two weeks before the last day of class instruction on the university academic calendar.

Verification of Group Counseling Requirement

The department requires 10 hours of group counseling training at internship. In addition to providing group psychotherapy, students may count leading workshop, teaching a class, or consulting service delivered to groups as part of the placement agency's training activities. The department allows this requirement to be completed at any time throughout the traineeship sequence. It is the student’s responsibility to inform the site supervisor and seek group counseling training opportunity at the internship site. Students will need to submit separate forms in the event the requirement is completed at two different internship placements. Upon completion of the requirement, fill out the verification form and return it to the course instructor.

Documenting Hours for LMFT & LPCC

MFCC and CMHC students must consult the Board of Behavioral Sciences website (www.bbs.ca.gov) for supervision and hours log forms for future licensing purpose. CMHC and MFCC students will need to obtain supervisor signatures before graduating. It is prudent for CMHC and MFCC students to create a personal file with copies of all BBS forms for future licensure purpose. SFSU does not keep documents for use for licensure governed by BBS. This is the sole responsibility of each individual student.
7. SUPERVISION & SUPERVISOR REQUIREMENTS

Minimum Qualifications for ALL Supervisors

Students must be placed in a counseling setting (agency or school) where a qualified supervisor is provided on site. Supervisors must have a graduate (master's or doctoral) degree in Counseling or professional psychology, and at least two years of counseling practice and related experience in the field. Supervisors must be employed (full-time or contracted) by the agency, and must be on site for at least 5 hours per week. These minimum qualifications apply to supervisors in ALL placement sites and across ALL specializations.

Supervisor must provide one hour of weekly individual supervision. Group supervision is not required but encouraged in addition to individual supervision. Group supervision in fieldwork can be counted as additional supervision hours. However, group supervision cannot replace Departmental and CACREP requirement for individual supervision.

MFCC Supervisor Requirements

The Board of Behavioral Sciences requires MFT trainees to receive supervision from a licensed marriage and family therapist (LMFT), licensed clinical social worker (LCSW), licensed psychologist, or board certified psychiatrist. Supervisors must (a) be licensed for at least two years out of the last five years prior to the commencement of supervision, (b) have practiced psychotherapy for at least two years out of the last five years prior to the commencement of supervision, (c) complete a minimum six hours of supervision training within 60 days of commencement of supervision (psychologist and psychiatrist exempted), and (d) complete six hours of supervision training each renewal period. LPCC who supervise MFT trainees must provide written documentation from BBS verifying that the LPCC is qualified to treat and assess couples and families prior to the commencement of supervision. If the supervisor does not meet these requirements, then the student's degree is invalid and accrued hours cannot be counted for graduation and licensing purpose. Refer to www.bbs.ca.gov for current information.

School Counseling Supervisor Requirement

School Counseling trainee settings require that supervisor (a) holds a valid California State Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) Credential and (b) has practiced as a credentialed school counselor for at least two years.

Clinical Mental Health Counseling Supervision

It is recommended that CMHC trainees receive supervision from an LPCC, LMFT, LCSW, Licensed psychologist, or board certified psychiatrist, although it is not required for the supervisor to be licensed. Please seek consultation with CMHC program faculty (Dr. Chronister or Dr. Fitzgerald) if your supervisor is not licensed.

Expectations of Supervision & Traineeship Experience

Traineeship location that is beyond a reasonable geographic distance from San Francisco State University (approximately 30 miles) will be considered on an individual basis, and are subject to agreement with the Fieldwork Coordinator before a trainee placement can be finalized.

Internship setting must provide an appropriate variety of clients and professional activities that engage student trainee in roles and functions pertinent to the counseling profession and student's readiness and interests.

The department will not approve any traineeship where students must pay a fee for supervision, training, or client contact.

At the site, there should be an opportunity for student participation in staff meetings, in-service training, and relevant interpersonal and interprofessional contacts.

The agency must have an experienced professional staff who is available and who can conduct advance levels of training and fieldwork management.

The agency must provide and facilitate opportunities for audio recording of two to three counseling sessions per semester for trainees taking COUN 736, COUN 890 and COUN 891. Student's audio recordings must be done using a medium of communication accessible to the internship instructor. If this is not possible, the student will be required to give translated transcriptions of the interview to the instructor. Confidentiality of all client recordings and information must be secured.

Agency supervisor and Department of Counseling faculty engage in mutual consultation to determine the suitability of traineeship experience for student's learning needs. It is possible that a placement is appropriate for one student but not appropriate for another.

We encourage placement sites to provide stipends and reimbursement for work-related (e.g., cost for transportation) expenses when possible. Please be aware that students accumulating hours toward the MFT license may not be paid as independent contractors (IRS form 1099).
8. TRAINEESHIP HOURS & DOCUMENTATION

Fieldwork Hours for ALL Specializations

During the first-year traineeship (i.e., COUN 705, COUN 736), a minimum of 12 hours per week at the site, on two separate days, is required to gain credit for the traineeship. During the second-year traineeship (i.e., COUN 890, COUN 891), a minimum of 16 hours per week at the site is required. Faculty instructor will only assign course grade when the student has (a) completed the required number of traineeship hours, (b) recorded and submitted the log form to course instructor, and (c) trainee evaluation completed and submitted by the field supervisor. The minimum hours required for courses in the traineeship sequence are:

COUN 705: 40 Direct Contact Hours, 140 Indirect (Total=180 hours)
COUN 736: 60 Direct Contact Hours, 120 Indirect (Total=180 hours)
COUN 890: 90 Direct Contact Hours, 150 Indirect (Total=240 hours)
COUN 891: 90 Direct Contact Hours, 150 Indirect (Total=240 hours)

INCOMPLETES: Although a student may have passed all other requirements in the practicum/internship course, the student will be assigned an Incomplete grade if they complete less than 80% of the hours required for each semester. As such, throughout the semester, student must monitor hour log carefully and work closely with your supervisor to establish a caseload that provide the minimum hours required to pass the respective course in the practicum/internship sequence.

Fieldwork Hours for Emphasis Area

In addition to a specialization, the department offers the opportunity for students to gain additional counseling expertise by adding an emphasis to their specialization course of study. MFCC, however, cannot be added as an emphasis. Students must obtain the approval of the faculty advisor and the program coordinator before adding an emphasis. An emphasis requires taking additional coursework and completing additional field placement in the emphasis area. The department recognizes the emphasis on student record; however, the emphasis area will not appear on student transcripts.

As an example, students planning to graduate with a specialization in School Counseling may decide to add an emphasis in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. Upon successful completion of all course work and internship training in both School Counseling and CMHC, students will graduate with a CMHC emphasis recognized by the Department of Counseling and would also be eligible for the Pupil Personnel Services Credential and PCC licensure. In addition to completing two internships in School Counseling settings, the student needs to complete an additional internship in the CMHC emphasis area.

The required internship hours for the respective emphasis area follows:

Emphasis in Career Counseling

Students who choose an emphasis in career counseling are required to take an additional two courses and must have 480 total hours, including 180 direct contact hours, of career counseling in field placement under supervision of a master's level supervisor where substantive individual counseling sessions take place.

Emphasis in Clinical Mental Health Counseling

Students who choose an emphasis in CMHC are required to take COUN 704 (Biopsychosocial Aspects of Health, Behavioral Health, Aging and Disability, COUN 870 (Professional Issues, Clinical Case Management & Systems of Care), and COUN 737 (Psychopharmacology). For students in specialties that do not require COUN 741 (Crisis Counseling), this course must also be taken to obtain an emphasis in CMHC. In addition, students must complete 480 total hours, including 240 direct contact hours, of internship in a mental health counseling setting.

Emphasis in College Student Personnel Counseling

Students who choose an emphasis in college counseling are required to take an additional two courses and must have 480 total hours, including 180 direct contact hours, of field placement in an appropriate college counseling field site under supervision of a master’s level supervisor in a college setting where substantive individual college counseling sessions take place.

Emphasis in Gerontological Counseling
Students who choose an emphasis in gerontological counseling are required to take an additional three courses and must complete 480 total hours, including 180 of direct contact hours, of field placement in an appropriate gerontological counseling field site under supervision of a master’s level supervisor where gerontological counseling is the focus.

Emphasis in School Counseling

Students who choose an emphasis in school counseling are required to take an additional three or four courses (depending on your specialization) and must complete 600 hours, including 180 direct contact hours, of field placement in two of three appropriate school counseling field sites (elementary, middle or high school) under supervision of a PPS credentialed supervisor.

Concurrent Internship Hours for Specialization and Emphasis

Internship placements that seek to recruit trainees from multiple specializations must submit separate applications for their internship program to be approved for the respective specializations. For example, a school-based wellness program that wishes to recruit School Counseling, MFCC, and CMHC trainees need to submit separate applications for approval by faculty coordinators of the respective specializations. Internship placements are encouraged to seek approval for multiple specializations if training experience applies across specializations and supervisor requirement is met (e.g., licensed therapist for MFCC, PPS credential for School Counseling).

Students who seek trainee placements that meet the requirements of a specialization and an emphasis concurrently can apply to placements approved for multiple specializations. For example, students with a specialization in College Counseling and an emphasis in Career Counseling can accrue internship hours concurrently in a placement approved for both College counseling and Career Counseling. Trainee placements that concurrently meet specialization and emphasis requirements, however, are limited. Students who want to declare an emphasis should, realistically, be prepared to spend more than two (2) years in traineeships – two years of internship in the specialization and one year of internship in the emphasis area. Students must work closely with the fieldwork coordinator and their faculty advisor to ensure that they have an appropriate arrangement for the specialization and emphasis.

Internship for School Counseling and Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) Credential

Students seeking a School Counseling (Pupil Personnel Services) Credential must demonstrate knowledge and skill in areas of educational assessment, personal and social counseling, academic and career counseling, program development, program coordination and supervision, consultation, legal aspects and professional ethics.

The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing mandates that a minimum of six hundred (600) clock hours of field practice is required in a K-12 school setting in direct contact with pupils. Only 200 of those hours may be in a private school.

Students specializing in school counseling must meet the department requirement of 840 total hours and 280 direct client contact hours. Students with an emphasis in school counseling can meet the PPS requirements by completing the 600 hours as described above. No exceptions will be granted.

(a) The assignment shall be provided in at least two of three settings (elementary, middle, high school) with a minimum of two hundred (200) clock hours at each setting

(b) At least one hundred and fifty (150) clock hours shall be devoted to issues of diversity and work must be with at least ten (10) pupils (individually and/or in a group) of a racial/ethnic background different from that of the candidate.

(c) A minimum of twenty-five (25) clock hours will involve group counseling and guidance activities in a school setting.

Up to 200 clock hours may be in a setting other than a school working with school age (K-12) youth, provided that the candidate is supervised by a practitioner who holds the PPS Credential in School Counseling.

These requirements must be met along with the requirements stipulated in this handbook applicable to all students in the Master of Science in Counseling degree program.

Internship Hours for LPCC & LMFT

Students who want to pursue Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC) must declare Clinical Mental Health Counseling as their specialization or as an additional emphasis, and completing all required courses and internship hours listed above. BBS stipulates that the 3000 internship hours required for licensure can only be accrued after completion of the graduate degree program.

Students wishing to become a Licensed Marriage Family Therapist (LMFT) must have MFCC as their specialization and complete the required specialization courses and internship hours. MFCC is the only specialization that cannot be added as an emphasis. BBS stipulates that a maximum of 1300 hours (out of 3000 hours) of internship experience can be accrued toward licensure prior to the degree being awarded.

Recording Hours on Log Forms

All practicum and internship hours accrued each semester must be recorded on the appropriate log forms, which can be downloaded from the department internship website: http://counseling.sfsu.edu/content/forms. Students must keep copies of all log forms before submitting them to the course instructor. Students must turn in separate logs for specializations and emphases even if the same agency supervisor is supervising.

Logs must be completed, signed by the site supervisor, and turned in to the practicum/internship instructors two weeks before the last day of instruction. Students will not receive course grade and credit for the traineeship course if signed logs are not submitted to the faculty instructor in time.

TRAINEESHIP ACTIVITIES TIMELINES

Start Date and End Date of Traineeship

The Trainee Internship Agreement is a contract that commits each internship to two semesters of weekly counseling activities that begin on the first day of the fall semester and ends before the last day of the spring semester within the academic year when all grades are due as specified in the university academic calendar. For the 2020-2021 academic year, internship begins on August 24, 2019 and ends on May 28, 2021. All traineeship activities must be conducted within this time period. Academic calendar of each semester and academic year is posted on SFSU website.

When completing the Traineeship Agreement, student and the site supervisor should discuss, negotiate, and determine the start date and end date of the traineeship within SFSU's academic calendar, whether students are expected to see clients during the winter semester break, and how the supervisor can recruit client cases to realistically help students fulfill the minimum internship hour requirements before the last day of instruction in each semester. Students should work with the site supervisor to fulfill all traineeship requirements before the semester and academic year ends, and students are required to turn in their signed log form two weeks before the last day of instruction.

Start Date for Traineeship & Counseling Activities

Students can engage in traineeship duties and counseling activities beginning the first day of the fall semester. Students must begin traineeship activities no later than the second week of September in order to remain in their practicum class and field placement, and to establish an adequate caseload to meet the minimum internship hour requirement.

Orientation & Training Prior to Fall Semester Begins

It is not uncommon for some placement agencies to engage students in orientation and training activities (e.g., workshops, staff meetings, shadowing, etc.) prior to the first day of class in the fall semester. Students are encouraged to attend these training and orientation activities. However, for university risk management concerns, (a) the department does not allow students to engage in any counseling and clinical activities before the first day of the fall semester, and (b) the training and orientation period should not exceed two weeks prior to the beginning of the fall semester. In other words, students cannot conduct any individual counseling, group counseling, or any other clinical activities during the training and orientation period, which cannot exceed two weeks prior to the first day of the fall semester. Students are not allowed to begin a practicum/internship before the first day of the fall semester. The Department, however, allows students to count hours spent on orientation activities prior to the beginning of fall semester. Students can record those hours as "other hours" in the first week of the internship log form.

Winter Semester Break Internship and Winter Log Form

The university designated a winter semester break on the academic calendar, which can last for four to five weeks between the fall and spring semesters. While students are not required by the university and the department to conduct field work during this time, the Department recognizes the potential implications and interruptions of this period on counseling relationship and process. As such, students are advised to work out an arrangement with the agency prior to the semester break so that client welfare is not compromised during this period. Internship hours accrued during the winter period can be counted forward to spring semester log or backward to make up deficits in fall semester log. At the beginning of the fall semester when student and site supervisor complete the Traineeship Agreement, students and the site supervisor should discuss and determine whether students are expected to continue traineeship duties during the entire or part of the winter semester break. Students who continue traineeship during this period should (a) inform the practicum/internship course instructor and the department chair so a faculty liaison can be assigned during the winter break, (b) record the hours on the separate "Winter Log," which can be downloaded from the department internship website, and (c) return the Winter Log (with supervisor's signature) to the internship course instructor at the beginning of the spring semester.

INCOMPLETES: Assuming that the student is passing all other course requirements, the student will be assigned an Incomplete grade if they achieve less than 80% of the hours (direct or indirect) required. Students should discuss with the site supervisor if counseling cases and duties can be assigned during the winter semester break to make up the hour deficit from the fall semester.

Summer Internship, Emphasis Internship, and COUN 850

The Department of Counseling requires students to register for COUN 850 for internship under certain circumstances. Note that COUN 850 is a course and requires formal enrollment and tuition.
1. Students who add an Emphasis to their Specialization may need to complete an additional year of internship in the Emphasis area during the fall and spring semester. Students will enroll in 3 units of COUN 850 in both the fall and spring semesters while completing the internship in the Emphasis area. COUN 850 must be approved by the faculty advisor and recorded on a COAF.

2. Traineeship that extends from the end of the spring semester of the academic year into summer session when trainee wishes to continue to accrue additional hours and experience from the preceding internship placement. For University risk management concerns and faculty liaison purpose, the department requires all students to enroll in one (1) unit of COUN 850 which incurs tuitions when providing counseling services in the internship during this period.

For MFCC students, SB-632 of the Board of Behavioral Sciences delineates specific requirements and instructions for students who want to accrue hours toward the MFT license during the university summer session. First, MFT students must provide counseling service during this time under the title of “trainee.” Second, the term of service must not exceed 90 calendar days. Third, this period must be immediately preceded by enrollment in a practicum/internship course and immediately followed by enrollment in another practicum/internship course or completion of the degree program. Fourth, all hours of experience gained during this period constitute part of the trainee’s supervised course of study, and they must be coordinated between the Department of Counseling and the site where the hours are being accrued. Internship training as a part of a degree program presents a risk management concern to the University. Although SB-632 allows trainees to engage in internship without being a part of a course, for University risk management concerns and faculty liaison purpose, MFT students are required to register for 1 unit of COUN 850 (incurs tuitions) when providing counseling services during this period.

3. For internship that is an extension from spring semester to summer session (including other reasons such as completing an Incomplete), the Department requires that student (a) enroll in one (1) unit of COUN 850 with the approval of their faculty advisor on a COAF, (b) inform the fieldwork coordinator and the Department Chair so a faculty liaison can be assigned during the summer session, (c) enter a summer Traineeship Agreement with the site supervisor, the student, and the Department of Counseling specifying the start date and end date of the traineeship (must be fewer than 90 days for MFT trainees), (d) document hours on a separate log form under COUN 850, and (e) obtain individual malpractice insurance coverage.

4. Students can only enroll in summer COUN 850 to accrue hours from the preceding internship placement that ended in the spring semester of the academic year. Students cannot enroll in a summer COUN 850 to accrue hours for the upcoming, succeeding internship that begins in the fall semester of the subsequent academic year. Keep in mind that COUN 850 is a course that students need to officially enroll and pay tuition for.

5. There are circumstances when traineeship concludes after the last day of the spring semester of the university academic year. For example, some students are placed in a school site and contracted to complete the placement at the end of the school year or school calendar, or some students enter a Traineeship Agreement that ends after the last day of the spring semester of the university academic year. The department allows an exemption from enrolling in COUN 850 as long as the extension does not go beyond the first two weeks of June. Students must inform the internship course instructor and the fieldwork coordinator of the arrangement, and submit a preliminary log form to the course instructor before the last day of instruction. Students must make arrangement with the internship course instructor to complete the final log form at the conclusion of traineeship.

6. It is only possible to register for COUN 850 after completing COUN 890 and COUN 891. In other words, students can only enroll in COUN 850 as a third-year internship for their specialization or emphasis. Students wishing to enroll in COUN 850 must obtain an approved and signed COAF from the faculty advisor.

Termination of Traineeship Before End of Semester or Academic Year

Termination of traineeship during the semester constitutes a breach of traineeship agreement and contract between the student, the field placement site, and the department. Traineeship may be terminated when there are personnel concerns at the placement site (e.g., supervisor turnover, funding loss), unprofessional practice or ethical violation committed by student or supervisor, or other excruciating personal circumstances (e.g., family crisis, health emergency). Termination due to such concerns can be initiated by the supervisor, the faculty instructor and liaison, or the student. Regardless of the reasons for termination, all parties must first consider the impact on client welfare and must ascertain that there is no client abandonment concern when terminating or referring client.

Students wanting to terminate a traineeship must consult and work closely with the site supervisor, practicum/internship course instructor (who is the liaison between the student and the site), and fieldwork coordinator. A placement may be terminated only with the approval of those parties and with consideration of ethical and professional responsibility to clients and to agencies/schools. Termination by a student without consultation will result in a grade of No Credit for the course. If the termination is due to safety concerns at the site (i.e., abrupt termination during a session), the student must leave the site and take active responsibility to contact the site supervisor, practicum/internship course instructor, and fieldwork coordinator as soon as possible.

If a student's traineeship is terminated for any reason, the student shall notify their practicum/internship course instructor and the site supervisor immediately in writing. The course instructor will then initiate the process of investigation and make recommendations to the appropriate departmental faculty. Students should be aware that an unsatisfactory resolution of this issue may place their credits for that semester in jeopardy.
If a trainee placement is terminated due to personnel issues at the field site, students must begin a new traineeship within 2 weeks in order to receive credit for the semester. If a change in trainee placement occurs at the beginning of a new semester, the same requirement applies. Students must complete the required hours of traineeship regardless of the change. In all cases, students must consult and work closely with the course instructor, site supervisor, and the fieldwork coordinator so that client welfare is not compromised and traineeship-related paperwork are properly completed during the transition.
9. TRAINEESHIP SETTING & PRACTICE REQUIREMENTS

Practicum Course Credit & Grade

Grades for Counseling 705 are CR/NC. In order to receive CR, students must also pass their practicum course (COUN 706) with the minimum grade of B. If a student does not receive a B or better for practicum (COUN 706), both traineeship (COUN 705) and practicum (COUN 706) must be repeated as the practicum cannot be taken without a field placement. If a student passes practicum (COUN 706) with a B or better, but does not receive CR for the traineeship (COUN 705), auditing the practicum may be required by the department when the student repeats the traineeship course. If logs are not received or if students accrue insufficient hours, CR will not be given. Students should consult the following table when building their weekly caseload:

Audio Recording for Supervision

CACREP standards require client session recordings be obtained and used in clinical supervision and training. All approved internship sites have agreed to allow and facilitate students to obtain required audio recordings of two to three client counseling sessions each semester during COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891. Before the first counseling session begins, client must grant informed consent for the trainee to audio-record the counseling sessions. Students will review these recordings with the site supervisor and the course instructor for supervision and skill coaching purpose. Both the student and the site supervisor must inform and remind one another of this agreement and requirement and make plan to obtain client session recordings. Students cannot pass COUN 736, COUN 890 and COUN 891 without completing the audio-recording assignment and CACREP’s training requirement. The student’s audio recordings must be done using technology the internship instructor has access to. If this is not possible, the student will be required to give translated transcriptions of session interviews to the instructor. The Department will reevaluate the viability of internship sites and may discontinue sites that cannot honor their agreement to help trainees obtain recordings as part of the traineeship requirements.

Different First-Year and Second-Year Internship Settings

The department requires two years of internship training at different traineeship sites and settings between their first-year and second-year placements. If a student wishes to stay in the same setting for their second placement, the student must (a) first discuss and solicit the approval of their academic advisor, (b) complete the "Waiver of Trainee Placement Policy Form," which can be downloaded from the department internship website, (c) obtain the signatures of the agency’s supervisor, the fieldwork coordinator, and the specialization coordinator, who makes the ultimate decision to approve or deny.

In deliberating the viability of a second-year traineeship at the same agency, the traineeship site supervisor or training coordinator must provide compelling evidence that the student would gain training experiences that are significantly different and differentiated from the previous traineeship. Specifically, the agency supervisor or training coordinator must provide in writing that students would work with (a) a different clientele population, (b) different counseling issues/concerns, and (c) a different supervisor. Enabling students to obtain new learning experiences and equipping students with new skills should be the priority. A second-year traineeship working with the same client population, same clientele issues/concerns, and the same supervisor will not be approved. The faculty advisor should discuss this with the student before endorsing the request.

After obtaining the signature of agency supervisor, the student is advised to consult with the faculty advisor and fieldwork coordinator who would verify the information on the form. The completed and signed form will be reviewed by the specialization coordinator in consultation with the fieldwork coordinator and the student’s academic advisor. The form must be received by the fieldwork coordinator before the last Friday in April.

Traineeship in Setting Where Students are Employed

Traineeship is for the purpose of the acquisition and development of skills in relation to the training curriculum. The department is willing to consider trainee placements in settings where students are employed, provided that the setting meets all other criteria discussed in this handbook. To comply with the Code of Ethics that governs the education, training, and supervision in the counseling profession, the student in traineeship cannot be supervised by their work supervisor, and the student must have a client caseload selected separately from their work’s caseload and specifically for the purpose of the traineeship. If a student completes one traineeship at their employment setting, at least one academic year of the other traineeship must be done in another site other than the same employment setting. Stipends for traineeships are occasionally offered by agencies. A stipend is funding specifically for training purposes and is therefore acceptable. Student must seek careful consultation and approval by the faculty advisor and fieldwork coordinator when considering such placement. Students in MFT specialization must comply with BBS regulations: It is against BBS regulations to be paid as an independent contractor if you are accruing hours towards BBS licensure (You cannot and must not be issued an IRS Form 1099).

Supervisory Evaluation of Trainee

Evaluation is part of the student's field work experience and is a process in which the agency supervisor, student and practicum/internship instructor all are involved. Typically, the practicum/internship instructor obtains feedback from agency supervisors and discusses the feedback at faculty meetings. Written evaluations must be completed, signed and returned to the practicum/internship instructor by the final day of instruction. Students will not receive credit for the traineeship if forms are not turned in on time or if the evaluation is not satisfactory. The practicum/internship will determine if CR or NC should be given for the semester. This judgment is based upon input from the field supervisor, the student, and the faculty.

CACREP requires “evaluation of the student’s counseling performance throughout the practicum, including documentation of a formal evaluation after the student completes the practicum” (p.16). Therefore the department of counseling requires onsite supervisors to complete an evaluation at the end of COUN 705 to assess student’s practicum performance. In addition, CACREP requires the same evaluation of internship, thus the department of counseling requires onsite supervisors to complete evaluations at the end of COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891.

Students are expected to negotiate with the trainee setting to meet the setting's requirements for hours (e.g., many agencies/schools will require more than the minimum for placement as a condition for accepting a student with 15-20 hours often required).

Professional Conduct

Students are present in a trainee setting at the invitation of the agency/school, and represent a considerable investment of time and energy on the part of that setting. As such, students must demonstrate the highest standards of professional behavior consistent with the values of the setting and personal and professional ethics. This relates to standards of dress, punctuality, manners of language, and professional contacts with supervisors, clients, supervisor, staff, and agency/department personnel. Failure to maintain these standards will result in negative evaluations and reflects poorly on the Department of Counseling, and may – in extreme cases – result in termination of placement and a grade of No Credit. Please refer to the Professional Readiness Behavior Rubrics (PRBR) in the Department’s Student Handbook.
10. CONTINGENCY ADJUSTMENT OF REQUIREMENTS DURING COVID-19 & TELEHEALTH PRACTICE

Contingency Adjustment of Traineeship Requirements During COVID-19 & Telehealth Practice

(August 2020)

COVID-19 and the use of telehealth and remote communications has presented potential challenges to fulfill the regular training hour requirements for practicum and internship. Faculty in the Department of Counseling have agreed to provide the following adjustment to training requirements, which apply to: (a) students enrolled in practicum and internship that begins in Fall 2020, (b) traineeship continues to be conducted via telehealth and remote communications or hybrid variations, and (c) COVID-19 necessitates remote operations of traineeship activities. Faculty will determine when regular training requirements will resume when the pandemic and telehealth practice do not pose significant constraint to obtain training hours.

Recordings of Placement Cases for Supervision & Coaching

Use of recording in supervision and coaching is part of CACREP requirements in professional practice training. Students typically present recordings of two cases from your placement’s caseload to faculty instructor in COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891 for skill coaching and case conceptualization. Given the potential challenges of confidentiality, and upon consultation with placement agency’s supervisor and trainee, faculty instructor will determine the feasibility of recordings and, if necessary, adjust the requirements without compromising trainee’s learning experience.

Direct Hours & Total Hours

In the Fall semester, students should use the respective log forms for Specialization or Emphasis to record weekly activity hours. These forms are posted on Department’s website. Students in COUN 705 (first-year, first-semester practicum) should strive to fulfill the 40 direct contact hour requirement since this is a CACREP requirement.

In the Spring semester, students should use another log form with modified requirements to record traineeship hours. This form can be used to record hours for both specialization and emphasis. The adjusted hours reflect the minimum required to meet CACREP standards, which is lower than the Department’s requirements. Refer to information of modified hours in Appendix 13. This log form will be available in spring semester and can only be used in the spring semester.

Group Counseling Hours

“In addition to the development of individual counseling skills, during either the practicum or internship, students must lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducational group”. (CACREP 2016 Accreditation Standards). Because this is a CACREP requirement and does not specify the number of hours to co-lead or lead a group, the Department of Counseling will be flexible on number of group sessions for those students currently in internship and completing 891 in Spring 2020 or Spring 2021. Refer to details in Appendix 13 for the respective specializations.
Due to the impact of the pandemic on internship sites, the Department of Counseling has made adjustments to the required number of internship hours for students completing internship during semesters that are affected. This is a temporary adjustment and hours will return to their original requirements when the pandemic no longer interferes with internship sites.

The intern’s commitment to their internship site (i.e., agreement regarding hours) should be honored first and foremost. If there is a problem the students should work with their supervisor and internship instructor.

Requirements

CACREP Requires a minimum of 700 hours in one’s specialty (of which 280 must be direct contact hours); PPS requires 700 hours in school counseling.

Group hours: 10 hours in class (completed within Coun 811) + additional group hours

“In addition to the development of individual counseling skills, during either the practicum or internship, students must lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducational group”. (CACREP 2016 Accreditation Standards). Because this is a CACREP requirement and does not specify the number of hours to co-lead or lead a group, the Department of Counseling will be flexible on number of group sessions for those students currently in internship and completing 891 in Spring 2020 or Spring 2021.

Options/alternatives for hours (what counts?)

The options for providing direct client hours and indirect hours must be arranged with your supervisor and your fieldsite. In terms of the requirements of the Department and CACREP, the following are some ideas you can share with your supervisor. We are continuing to advocate with CACREP for more flexibility in terms of what can count as direct client hours and will update you if anything changes.

Currently, the following are some ideas of activities that may be done remotely to accrue direct and indirect client hours.
One hour weekly supervision must continue throughout the spring semester in order to accrue hours.

11. Role/Responsibility of the Faculty Liaison

COUN 705, COUN 706, COUN 736, COUN 890, and COUN 891 instructors are the faculty liaison to the trainee field placement for each student in their respective sections. The Fieldwork Coordinator facilitates the role of the liaison, but does not replace the liaison.

Responsibilities of the Faculty Liaison

Maintain contact with and between students and agency supervisors to assist the student in integrating academic and traineeship experiences. Faculty liaisons are available to consult with onsite supervisors regarding trainee counseling skill and professional development – consistent with expectations and supervision in the setting.

To work with trainee and supervisor in managing field placement related difficulties and for ongoing and/or crisis consultation. Trainees and supervisors should involve faculty liaison early in such situations before a poor evaluation is written or a traineeship is threatened. Faculty liaison are to be available to discuss issues with all parties, using appropriate channels of communication, including site visits if necessary.

To contact all supervisors via email each semester. Visits to the field placement are determined as needed by the counseling department, liaison faculty, Fieldwork Coordinator and field supervisors.

Collect field placement progress forms from students each semester, review, and follow up where necessary. Students must submit forms to liaison by mid-October in the fall semester, and mid-March in the spring semester.

To obtain the supervisor evaluation of trainee performance and work with the student and supervisor to complete the evaluation form if help is needed. Supervisor evaluation rating is a component of the students final grade in their practicum/internship course. In COUN 705, the faculty liaison gives a Credit or No Credit grade at the end of the first semester.
12. Role/Responsibility of the Practicum or Internship Instructor

Each field placement trainee takes a practicum/internship course that meets weekly and is designed to support the activities of the traineeship. Each course is assigned a faculty or instructor who provides support that includes, but is not limited to, learning and practicing basic and advanced counseling skills and techniques, screening and assessment, diagnosis, treatment, and goal setting, case conceptualization, advocacy, case management, crisis intervention, emergency preparedness, professional identity and ethical issues. The curriculum differentiates particular instructional goals and objectives for each of the four semesters of traineeship experience (see Appendix 2). Practicum/Internship course instructor offers serves as the liaison between the student trainee and agency supervisor.
13. Role/Responsibility of Agency Supervisor

The agency supervisor engages in conscious and continuous planning for student trainee's learning experiences that contribute to trainee's development in the roles and functions of a counselor. The agency supervisor prepares all staff members for the arrival of students. Supervisors must clarify the student's role, function, title, and lines of communication. Provision of adequate workspace and regular supervision creates the necessary foundation and environment for a good field experience. This can reduce staff inconvenience and the student's initial anxiety.

The agency supervisor bears primary responsibility for insuring that the trainee's placement leads to learning and professional growth. The supervisor represents the setting and should expect that the trainee's presence will contribute to the welfare of the setting. The trainee can also expect that the supervisor will present an appropriate professional model and will provide clear and regular supervision, as well as continuing support and assistance within the setting. A minimum of one hour per week of regularly scheduled individual supervision is a requirement of the Department of Counseling (See Appendix 3).

Within the context described above, the supervisor must be aware of the objectives of the student's graduate training program and be able to work with the student's developing skills. This can be accomplished through discussions with the student and consultation with the faculty liaison.

When the placement begins, agency supervisors must return the trainee placement agreement to the Department of Counseling.

Agency supervisors are responsible for evaluating the student on an ongoing basis and completing the Department of Counseling's on-line supervisor evaluation at the end of each semester. A narrative evaluation may also be submitted within the on-line evaluation form.

Logs of hours spent in the setting must also be approved and signed by agency supervisors. Logs and forms need to be filled out in a timely manner, as undue delays can cause a student to receive a “no credit” or “incomplete” for their course.
14. Role/Responsibility of Fieldwork Coordinator

The fieldwork coordinator is a member of the faculty who assists students and their faculty advisors in the identification and selection of internship placement. Given the large number of agencies and school settings and the large number of students seeking placements, the coordinator works with practicum and internship faculty and students in the placement process, but does not assume sole responsibility for placements. Given these constraints, the functions of the fieldwork coordinator are as follows:

Maintains a list of currently acceptable and appropriate agencies and schools for traineeship, including contact information, roles and functions of trainees, populations served, procedures for application and requirements for placement.

Provides traineeship site information and consults with students in selecting appropriate placements. Most information is transmitted via the department of counseling listserv.

Develops new traineeship placements; facilitate communications between agencies and faculty coordinators in the Department of Counseling in applications and approvals of new internship sites; maintains ongoing relationships with approved internship sites; consults with agencies regarding the department of counseling internship site requirements and standards. Evaluate viability and (dis)continuation of internship sites based on feedback from students and internship course instructors.

Facilitates faculty/supervisor meetings and trainings.

Coordinates and attends traineeship fairs.

Verifies documented hours for COUN 705, COUN 736, COUN 890, COUN 891, and COUN 850 in conjunction with each counseling student trainee and faculty liaison.

Revised August 5, 2020
16. Appendix 2

Explanation of Four-Semester Traineeship Sequence

First year: COUN 705, COUN 706, COUN 736

COUN 705 and COUN 706 are first-year practicum and fieldwork placement courses that must be taken concurrently in the fall semester. COUN 706 focuses on developing and applying basic microskills and facilitative skills; basic case conceptualization, diagnosis, treatment planning and goals; crisis, emergency management; cultural competency and counseling ethics; applying supervision effectively; process note and reporting; and professional identity. Students engage in role play and simulating activities to learn and practice these skills in class. In addition to weekly class meetings, each student is paired with a classmate to conduct five mock counseling sessions, and meets with the course instructor for five supervision and feedback sessions (30 minutes per session). These mock counseling sessions and supervision feedback sessions (30 minutes per session) take place outside of regular class meetings for 10 (ten) weeks, and these sessions typically begin in early to mid-September. All mock counseling sessions are conducted in the Department’s counseling training clinic (first floor in Burk Hall) and must be video-recorded and viewed by the instructor. Schedules of the mock counseling and supervision sessions are collaboratively determined by you, your instructor, and your classmate in your counseling dyad. Students learn how to write process notes and case notes based on materials from mock counseling sessions. COUN 705 is the fieldwork component of practicum, which requires students to gain counseling experience for 12-16 (twelve to sixteen) hours per week at the placement site. Students must accrue at least 40 direct contact hours (face-to-face, one-on-one direct counseling service to clients) by the end of the fall semester. Students should register for the COUN 705 & COUN 706 section that corresponds to their counseling specialization.

COUN 736 is internship course taken in the spring semester. Students attend a weekly 3-hour class and continue to gain counseling experience in the placement site for 12-16 (twelve to sixteen) hours a week. Students are advised to carry a caseload of at least 5 clients per week. Course instructor will provide skill coaching and feedback to process notes and case conceptualization based on to 2-3 (two to three) client sessions from the placement site. Toward this learning purpose, students must work with the site supervisor and clients to obtain audio-recordings. All placement sites have consented to session recording requirement prior to their approval as traineeship sites. Students register for the same section that corresponds to their counseling specialization.

SECOND YEAR

After successful completion of the first year of traineeship, students take a year-long sequence of COUN 890 (in the fall) and COUN 891 (in the spring). Students are required to be placed in another internship site that enhances skill training and experiences that are significantly different (e.g., counseling setting, clientele population, developmental stage) from their first-year placement. Students are required to register for a section that is consistent with their primary specialization and to stay with the same section and the same instructor for the 2-semester sequence. COUN 890 and 891 meet approximately 8-9 times each semester as a class, and 4-5 times individually with their course instructor for skill coaching and feedback based on review of audio-recordings and process notes. Students must plan on obtaining audio-recordings of client sessions early on. Students must be in their fieldwork setting for 16-20 (sixteen to twenty) hours per week, and are advised to work up to a caseload of 8 to 12 (eight to twelve) clients per week.

COUN 890 continues to prepare trainees by advancing their counseling skills, knowledge and competency repertoire, honing their ability to develop effective therapeutic rapport, and drawing on counseling theories and models to inform case conceptualization, treatment planning, and client outcomes. Students are expected to know and practice cultural and disability competency skills, trauma-informed care and mental health recovery principles in their process notes, audio-recordings, in-class counseling dyad practice, and during instructor supervision meetings. Students also begin to develop their own person counseling style, and increase their ability to practice on-going self-awareness, self-monitoring, and self-correction. Transference and counter-transference is explored regularly. Students are expected to be competent in identifying microskills, examples of empathic understanding, unconditional positive regard, and genuineness, and incorporate intersecting client cultural identities into case conceptualization and treatment planning. Students are expected to share their cognitive and affective responses to clients with their instructor and peers, and present case information in an efficient and counselor-oriented manner. Professional identity and integrated behavioral healthcare is also covered. Student advance their report and process note writing.
COUN 891 continues to advance the skills, knowledge and competencies learned in 706, 736, and 890. This course focuses particularly on theory-based, culturally and disability competent case conceptualization and treatment planning, and establishing and achieving realistic and measurable counseling outcomes. At this stage of training, students are expected to comfortably exhibit microskills, therapeutic rapport building, theory and evidence-based practice driven techniques (e.g., CBT, Solution-focused, Person-centered, MI, etc.), and apply stage of change model to all clients. Students are expected to be competent at explaining intentions behind counseling approaches and its immediate impact on the therapeutic rapport and treatment outcomes. An increased personal model of counseling develops and self-understanding and awareness comes more naturally. Competence and confidence in giving and receiving feedback from peers and instructors occurs. Advance competencies in trauma-informed care, mental health recovery, professional identity, report and process note writing, and integrated behavioral healthcare occurs. Case presentation occurs at ease and is done in an effective and efficient manner.

Rationale for One Hour of Supervision Per Week

The form of supervision and the modes used in supervision will vary from one setting and supervisor to another. The Department of Counseling at SFSU is committed to placing our students in fieldwork settings where the site and the supervisor are willing to invest time and resources in the training of emerging professionals. We hope that our students will contribute to the agency/school/college as the year progresses and that it will be a mutually satisfying experience. It is in the service of a well-structured training experience that we require a minimum of one hour of individual supervision per week for our students. Although not required, most settings provide two hours of group supervision in addition to this, or that some additional contact with supervisory personnel will be available as might be appropriate in specific settings. Individual supervision, however, cannot be replaced or substituted by group supervision.

The rationale for one regularly scheduled hour of individual supervision per week is based on a number of factors:

1. Weekly individual supervision for counseling trainees is required by accreditation, licensing, and credentialing bodies that set the minimum requirements for practicum and internship.

2. We have noticed that one of the leading causes of frustration and anxiety for students is the lack of a predictable and reliable framework for supervision. It is also a leading cause of a supervisor’s perception that the student is unable to contain anxiety and work independently. A reliable framework of an hour of supervision at a regularly scheduled time and location each week allows the student to contain anxiety and questions with the knowledge that there will be a safe place to obtain help, information, support and feedback.

3. Supervision is a relationship that is parallel to that of the counselor/client relationship. It is a process whereby students learn about receiving help through a relationship that is professional and consistent. It is a forum where they can learn to differentiate between a crisis that needs immediate help from a supervisor and one that does not. It is where they can learn to deal with their own difficulties and anxieties and discover a variety of problem solving/ strength based skills.

4. It is our experience that one hour per week of concentrated time is essential in order to develop a relationship with a student that will allow for an open and honest exploration of how the student is managing the relationship process along with the case management and educative elements of the work.

5. It is a place where students will develop a model for supervision that they will use when it is their turn to supervise students later on in their own professional lives.
Policy regarding Recording of Client Sessions

Throughout the two years of practicum and internship instruction, students are required to obtain voice recordings or video recordings of sessions with clients in their field placements. These recorded sessions must be transported to San Francisco State University by student and used for skill coaching/supervision by course instructors.

Some instructors require 2-3 audio session recordings from the field as early as the fall semester of the first-year practicum.

In order to maintain confidentiality of these recordings, the following procedures are followed by all instructors:

1. Students are required to discuss the issue of recording with their field supervisor.
2. Students are required to obtain informed consent from clients before recording.
3. Students are required to eliminate all identifying information from the recording.
4. Students are required to bring the recording to their practicum and internship instructor who will listen to portions of, or all of, the recording.
5. The instructor will focus primarily on the student’s interaction with the client. Coaching is designed to address the learning process of the student.
6. The instructor and student understand that the practicum and internship instructor is not responsible for treatment of the client. Students must discuss any suggestion regarding client treatment with the field supervisor.
7. The instructor is responsible for maintaining confidentiality under the provisions of ethical responsibility in the relevant professional codes of ethics.
8. The instructor will return the recording to the student after coaching/supervision.
9. The student must erase or destroy the recording or give the recording to the client, whichever is consistent with policies at the field placement. Recordings must be secured in a safe place at all times, and they must not be retained by the student nor the instructor after the end of the semester.
10. Students must provide instructor with recording and a hard-copy process note. DO NOT send recordings and process notes electronically (no faxes or email attachments). This is a violation of the client’s confidentiality.
Guidelines for Trainees in Supervision

At the request of students, we are including some tips for students regarding the supervision process.

- You are ultimately responsible for the effectiveness of your supervision. Come prepared. Be focused. Arrive with recordings and process notes. Know what you want to discuss: cases, techniques, questions, doubts, successes.
- You and your supervisor are mutually involved in the process of improving your skills and your sense of professional self. Adopt a problem-solving stance. Where are you in your skill development? What needs to happen next for your continued development? Be both willing to listen to the supervisorial feedback and be willing to lead the discussion into new areas.
- Be clear about what you want and need in supervision. Articulate your questions and expectations clearly. Your supervisor is ready to give you feedback, but you must lead the way. Remember supervisor cannot offer feedback that you do not ask for.
- Discern what you do well and what you need to improve. Do not obsess with your mistakes or bash yourself ceaselessly. Your recordings and process notes provide performance as well as reflection materials that demonstrate your ability to discern your strengths and articulate areas of improvement. Supervision provides a platform where you can receive evaluative feedback in a supportive space.
- What you don’t get now, you can seek out in later training. Everyone has something to teach. Discover what your supervisor has to teach and learn that. Don’t expect to learn everything from any one person, but do learn something from each supervisor. Your later professional life will be full of opportunities for further supervision.
- Each of us formulates our own counseling style. You will not be like anyone else; neither will your supervisor be like anyone else. Be as respectful of your supervisor’s style and biases as you hope s/he is of yours.
- Avoid playing games. We refer you to the article, “Games counselor trainees play: Dealing with trainee resistance,” Counselor Education and Supervision, June 1972, pp. 251-256. Be honest with your own resistance and be willing to discuss how that plays out in the supervision process. Articulate what you find most difficult to acknowledge about yourself as it is most likely what negatively affect your work and your learning.
- Exercise judgment in self-disclosure. Honest self-evaluation sometimes entails disclosing personal information that challenges professional boundary between professor and student / supervisor and trainee. Review ethical codes and guidelines on professional relationships. Develop sensitivity and skills to discern what types and levels of self disclosure constitute boundary crossing and boundary violation. Be aware of the impact on supervisory and professional relationship before engaging in self-disclosure.
- Avoid hostility. Do not verbally attack your supervisor or your placement site, either directly (to your site supervisor) or indirectly (as when discussing your placement experience with the instructor). Be constructive, concrete, and professional while voicing your concerns. This is small professional world, and placement supervisors are always screening interns as future colleagues.
- Realize that neither you nor your supervisor is perfect. It is a common mistake among us that we are more willing to forgive our clients for their imperfections than we are to forgive ourselves.
- Develop your sense of humor. In addition to stamina and courage, a well-developed sense of humor is one of the necessary assets in this profession.
- Remember that this is both training and socializing process; that it is both a heuristic and evaluative experience.
20. Appendix 6

Guidelines for Supervisors

At the request of supervisors, we are including some suggested activities to prepare our trainees in the supervision process.

- Orient agency/school personnel/staff (e.g., receptionist, teachers) to the roles and functions of the trainee prior to when the trainee begins their placement. Staff can benefit from knowing who will be supervising the trainee, where the student will be located and their contact information, and how the trainee’s role intersects with staff’s. The agency’s receptionist/front desk personnel should be informed of the trainee’s name, service location, phone extension, and day/time of the week at the location. Similarly, provide the trainee with information about the roles and functions of agency/school personnel/staff their positions, and their role in the trainee’s experience.

- Orient the student to the culture of the agency/school. What are the informal and formal aspects of the agency/school culture including dress code, parking, client/staff boundaries? What are the community practice policies at this placement?

- Educate/review the agency/school’s crisis/safety protocols, emergency management protocols, and what and where the required forms trainees need to be filled and submitted for reporting purpose. Provide trainee adequate training and time to learn reporting protocol, documentation requirements, and computer software programs that are used by the agency/school for documentation and communication.

- Orient the student to the broader social service community within which the agency operates. Where will the trainee refer clients when necessary? What other agencies/schools work with the same client population? With whom will the student consult in the community? If the counseling unit is operated within a larger service agency (e.g., wellness program within a school setting; academic advising office within an academic department), orientation to the large service agency and how the traineeship service unit functions within the larger service agency is important. Inform and introduce other intra and interprofessionals who will interact to the trainee (e.g., psychiatrist, social workers, psychologists, housing programs, case managers, etc.).

- Discuss the ethical and legal issues particularly critical in your agency/school. For example, provide information on the 51/50 process, HIPPA, reporting abuse, responding to suicide and homicidal ideations, etc. within the context of the agency/school. Offer information on relevant state and federal laws that apply counseling practice in the agency/school.

- Discuss with the student your expectations during the course of the field placement and during the supervision hour. What materials you expect the student to bring to each supervision session (e.g., recordings, process notes, verbal case presentation, etc.). Consider sharing your supervision style and approach, theoretical orientation, and exploring the students’ supervision expectations. Encourage the student to have an agenda for each supervision meeting. You might begin the meeting by agreeing on a flexible agenda. You may always suggest and add agenda items that can facilitate growth and development of counseling skills and counselor identity.

- Allow the student to shadow your work and other staff work, particularly in the beginning of the traineeship. Shadowing is one of the best tools for trainee learning and building self-efficacy. Consider role playing with trainees to assist them in gaining skills and/or building confidence in trying new approaches and skills with clients.

- Provide opportunities to discuss trainee (or those being shadowed) intentions behind actions, how techniques are linked to case conceptualization, goals and outcomes. Discuss specific techniques, strategies, and interventions you have used and consider sharing how you learn from your own mistakes. Discuss the process and value of learning through errors and being tolerant of imperfection and ambiguity.
• Provide opportunities to discuss, explore, and experience cultural and disability competent counseling. What does this look like? How does the agency/school address culture and disability in their setting? How will the trainee know when they are enacting or not enacting cultural and disability competent counseling?

• Regularly review the student’s caseload. Model for students how to relay client information in an efficient and clinically useful manner; what are the important details to relay? What language is best used to relay the information? Assist students in learning how to provide a “picture” of client presentation and functioning without relying on numerous details.

• Consider listening to parts of or entire sessions that have been audio-recorded or read through transcriptions together. Consider observing trainees during sessions if possible.

• Be clear with the student about your expectations and your perceptions of their performance throughout their traineeship. Give clear feedback on what the student is doing well and where you see need for improvement. Supervisors play both an educative and evaluative role.

• Refer the student to books, articles, conferences, and workshops that can enhance student skill and professional development.

• Take a deep breath and remember that you can’t do all of this all of the time.

SAMPLES OF CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENTS

COUNSELING CLINIC

Counseling Information and Consent Form

This form provides information about the Counseling Clinic and sets conditions for receiving counseling in the Counseling Clinic. Please read this sheet carefully and discuss any questions with the counselor before signing it.

Clinic Information

The Counseling Clinic is a training clinic sponsored by the Department of Counseling & Counseling and Psychological Services. The Counseling Clinic is staffed by second year graduate students from the Department of Counseling all of who have previous counseling experience. The Counseling Clinic is a free service offered to SFSU students and is open during the fall and spring semesters of the academic year. Counselors are not available when school is not in session and the clinic is closed in the evenings and over the weekends as well as during the winter and summer breaks and school holidays.

Confidentiality

All information disclosed within sessions including the fact that you are in counseling is confidential and may not be discussed with anyone outside the Counseling Clinic Staff and Counseling and Psychological Services without your written permission except in the following situations where disclosure is required by law:

1. when there is reasonable suspicion of abuse to children or elderly persons.
2. when the client presents a serious danger of violence to another.
3. when the client is likely to harm himself or herself unless protective measures are taken.
4. if the clinic is directed to turn over records by a court ordered subpoena.

Counselor Supervision

Each counselor in the Clinic receives weekly individual and group supervision from licensed professionals on the Counseling Clinic Staff which includes some counselors from Counseling and Psychological Services in Student Services Building Room 208. As a training facility for master level students it is necessary for all counseling sessions to be audio-taped and some sessions to be video-taped.

Audio and video tapes are used only for supervision purposes and are reviewed in order to assist your counselor in the development of their counseling skills. Audio and video tapes are reviewed by your counselor and their Clinic supervisor. Additionally, an audio tape may be reviewed by your counselor’s designated instructor of clinical training within the Department of Counseling.

Intake process

After the initial sessions with a counselor, she or he will meet with their supervisor to determine if the clinic is the appropriate agency to meet your counseling needs. This decision will be based on the issues you are presenting and the limitations of the clinic structure. If this is not the appropriate agency you will be given referrals to resources more appropriate to your therapeutic needs and goals. If you have previously seen a counselor at SFSU Counseling & Psychological Services it is the clinic policy that the clinic counselor speak with your previous counselor or review their clinical notes so that the clinic counselor is aware of the previous counseling you have received from our joint services. During the first or second intake interview with a counselor he or she will ask you to fill out some brief assessment inventories.

Cancellations
For counseling to be effective it is important to attend sessions regularly. Please discuss with your counselor the best way to handle missed appointments at the start of your counseling with them. Clients are asked to give at least 24 hours notice if they are not able to keep any appointment due to illness or other circumstances. Failure to keep an initial intake appointment without notice may require the client to return to the waiting list.

Length of Services

Counselors begin their placement in the Counseling Clinic at the start of the academic year in August and stay until the final week of classes in May. Termination of counseling may occur at any time that you and your counselor mutually agree or when you individually decide to end your counseling. For some students termination of counseling may occur at the end of the spring semester as a result of the counselor ending his/her placement in the clinic. If appropriate at the conclusion of counseling in the clinic your counselor will offer you the option of referrals to counseling services in your community.

In some circumstances students may wish to contact the counselor they have seen in the clinic at the counselor’s next practice or work setting. After the end of the spring semester when a student has completed counseling in the clinic they may call the Clinic Director for information about the availability at another counseling setting of the counselor they have seen in the clinic.

Licensure Information for Students in MFCC Specialization

During the course of your training and prior to graduating you may accumulate hours of supervised field experience. However, you can begin to count these hours toward licensure (3000 supervised clinical hours) only after successful completion of 12 units of credit in the program. The Department of Counseling must monitor pre-graduation hours and must approve placements based on required standards and the appropriateness of the placement for traineeship. In order to satisfy requirements for monitoring of these hours students must complete the weekly summary of hours of experience forms that can be directly downloaded from department website. These forms must be kept by the student and produced at any time they are requested. It is important for students to understand that they are responsible for completing, maintaining, and keeping all records that BBS will ask you to present when you apply for licensure.

The Department of Counseling will also monitor fieldwork hours accumulated toward the 840 hours required for graduation in the Master’s degree program. While these hours may appear the same as those accumulated for licensure, they should be logged separately. The Department of Counseling is most concerned with traineeship hours required to complete the degree program. To satisfy requirements for graduation, students are required to keep a record of the department's traineeship log forms and fulfill all Department of Counseling academic and traineeship requirements. The Department of Counseling will keep and maintain a record of your log forms and your traineeship hours. Please note that the department will not keep a record of hours for BBS.

To stay informed of the changes and current state of BBS licensing requirements, forms, and process, it is recommended that you join the California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists (CAMFT), and familiarize yourself with the BBS website at http://www.bbs.ca.gov.

Licensure Information for Students Seeking LPCC

For students who want to become a California Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC), you must be in the CMHC program (as counseling specialization or emphasis). If you are not in the CMHC program as either a specialization or emphasis at the start of their program, you will need to apply for an emphasis in CMHC using the Application for Addition or Deletion of Emphasis form, which can be downloaded from the Department website. The application must be submitted in October or February of the academic year. The CMHC faculty will determine if the application will be approved typically within a month after the form is submitted.

Clinical Mental Health Counseling emphasis students are required to complete the following courses in addition to those courses required by their specialization curriculum. In addition, if you want to work with families, couples, and children or supervise LPCC or MFT interns who are working with families, couples and children, you must also take COUN 858 (Couples and Family Counseling) and COUN 860 (Couples and Family Counseling II).

For students who want to work with couples, families and children and take the additional six semester-units (2 courses) focused on marriage, family and children (COUN 858 and COUN 860), they must also accrue 500 post-graduate hours of supervised experience working with couples, families or children and six hours of CEUs in marriage, family and children in each renewal cycle. LPCC’s must obtain written confirmation from BBS of meeting the requirements to treat couples, families or children and supervise LPCCs/MFTs who are working with couples, families and children. BBS requires LPCC’s to provide clients and supervisees prior to commencing treatment/supervision (California Business & Professions Code 4999.20(a)(3), 4980.03(g)). Upon receipt of this verification, there is no restriction for LPCCs to assess and treat children.

CMHC students can earn the 500 hours of couples, families and children experience during their practicum or internship (pre-graduate) as long as they receive fieldwork supervision from an LPCC, LMFT, Licensed Social Worker, Licensed Psychologist, or Licensed Physician Board Certified in Psychiatry who has met the supervision requirements (BBS Regulation 1820.5). While it is advisable to complete the six units of couples, families and children coursework before earning the 500 hours, it is not required, as long as one is under supervision.

Once a CMHC student graduates, the counselor applies to the BBS to register as an Associate Professional Clinical Counselor (APCC) which positions them to earn 3,000 supervised hours over a minimum of two years and a maximum of six years toward licensure. Applicants will have one year, from the date of their letter of deficiencies, to complete any education deficiencies outlined by the BBS. All education requirements must be completed before the intern number can be assigned. The LPCC Law & Ethics Exam is taken in the first year of post graduate internship and the National Clinical Mental Health Counselor Exam is taken when all 3,000 supervised hours are complete. An exam must be attempted at least once a year until all have been passed. This process can take several years, since applicants will have one year to complete the application, one year to complete deficiencies after Board notification, one year to complete each exam and up to six years to complete the 3,000 supervised hours. Counselors licensed in other states, who are applying for the LPCC in California, may have already met these requirements, so their path to licensure will be expedited. Due to the impact of the pandemic on internship sites, the Department of Counseling has made adjustments to the required number of internship hours for students completing internship during semesters that are affected. This is a temporary adjustment and hours will return to their original requirements when the pandemic no longer interferes with internship sites.

The intern’s commitment to their internship site (i.e., agreement regarding hours) should be honored first and foremost. If there is a problem the students should work with their supervisor and internship instructor.

Requirements

CACREP Requires a minimum of 700 hours in one’s specialty (of which 280 must be direct contact hours); PPS requires 700 hours in school counseling.

Group hours: 10 hours in class (completed within Coun 811) + additional group hours

“In addition to the development of individual counseling skills, during either the practicum or internship, students must lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducational group”. (CACREP 2016 Accreditation Standards). Because this is a CACREP requirement and does not specify the number of hours to co-lead or lead a group, the Department of Counseling will be flexible on number of group sessions for those students currently in internship and completing 891 in Spring 2020 or Spring 2021.

Minimum hours (blue) for students who are enrolled in Practicum and Internship during 2019-2020 and/or 2020-2021 academic year. (Pre and post Covid requirements in parentheses)

Options/alternatives for hours (what counts?)

The options for providing direct client hours and indirect hours must be arranged with your supervisor and your fieldsite. In terms of the requirements of the Department and CACREP, the following are some ideas you can share with your supervisor. We are continuing to advocate with CACREP for more flexibility in terms of what can count as direct client hours and will update you if anything changes.

Currently, the following are some ideas of activities that may be done remotely to accrue direct and indirect client hours.

One hour weekly supervision must continue throughout the spring semester in order to accrue hours.
